

Rule 162

CONFLICT IN TRIAL SETTINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

When an attorney has a conflict in trial settings and the involved district judges cannot resolve the conflict, the matter must be referred to the departmental justice. If the district courts are in different judicial departments, the matter must be referred to both departmental justices.

[History: Am effective September 8, 2006; Restyled rule effective July 1, 2012.]